

September 2025 Release Notes

We've just pushed a new release that's all about improving your experience and giving you more control over your website. Here's what's new:

New Features & Improvements

User Interface & Experience

- Added the ability to filter by school district
- Improved the UI for switching floors on interactive floor plans, exteriors, site plans, and interiors, making them more user-friendly on mobile.
- Added configurable link ability to the upper right "Contact Us" section, allowing for a pop-up or a new page.
- Shortened Brochures by eliminating redundant information
- Created new text options for Hero sections to give you more design flexibility.
- Added the ability to limit search by state
- Added structured schema to all cards, which will help with site visibility.
- Added the ability to have a second link in the Header and Footer for more navigation options.
- Created the ability to have different links for the Header Contact Sublabel on mobile and desktop.
- Created a new "Hero Carousel" section where text can be assigned per image.
- Enabled external links in the Header and Footer to open in a new tab.
- Implemented a new form type for Newsletters.
- Enhanced the Page Form Section with a "Legal Note" property for compliance use.
- Added a new "Global Page Management" feature to enable/disable pages.

Page Section Updates

- Added text position configuration to Hero A for more control.
- Enhanced "Image Links" page section with rich text editor.
- Added the ability to make text strong in section titles

Backend & System Enhancements

- Updated the "Full Map" button on mobile, unblocking this important UI improvement.
- Updated redirects, popups, and shared sections to use our new, cleaner table design.
- Introduced the ability to limit search by selected state
